News of Lee's Surrender in New York

The Army Meving on Destanville. The Rebel Army Falling to Pieces. Mavements of General Stoneman.

Gallantry of the 2d and 5 h Corps The Gold Excitement is New York.

New York, April 10.

The aunouncement of Lee's capture last night created the wildest excitement. Imprompin illuminations of many private dwellings quickly followed, the streets were filled with people hurrahing, singing and dancing with joy.

every city, village and hamlet in the constry. showing that the same joy prevailed throughout the land. The whole army this morning moved five miles on the road to Destonville. In the forencon the 21 and 5.h corps succeeded in falling upon Gordon's corps, who were guarding Lee's army in the vicinity of Destouville, etampeding a part of it and making many captures of men and material. Gordon took p one position after another on the hill tops, and succeeded in relarding our pursuit to a mited extent. Refugees and deserters stated that the rebel aimy was falling to pieces. A refusee also said trains were rubning from Richmond to Daville all day, and that Jeff. Davis and his cabinet reached there in the evening, and were taken to the residence of Mr. Sucherland. This refugee says Beauregard telegraphed that Stonema was on the Danville and Greensboro railroad, tearing it up between these places.

The Herala's correspondent from the cavalry reconnts the movements of this arm of the service in the pursuit of Lee. Their resr tuard was evertaken, three hundred and twenty in number, strongly entrenched acrose Namegiae creek having destroyed the bridge and felled trees acress the ford to impede pursuit. On advancing the enemy opened fire, which was returned with vigor. They were finally shelled from their position. A number of men were at once dismounted, the obstructions removed and the command crossed. It is evident that the depart strations.

crossed. It is evident that the demonstrations on the part of the enemy were at occe mai with, as the road was strewn with all sorts of munitions, debris and cannon, and amanniion was found secreted in the woods. Pushtion was found secreted in the woods. Pushing on, Barriager's bilgade of cavalry we's soon encounted by the Second brigade, Col. Wells, commanding. The rebils scatted like sheep on being fire or. evertook the rebelt at Dunnecaville, agreeding on each side of the read. Our men went in under the wildest excitement.

Gen. Custar seeing that unless we covered more ground with our c valry many more rebols would escape, sent back and hurried up the First brigade. Several miles we o thus passed, and many robels and arms gathered in. Finally the robels rallied to make a stand. Our carrity formed for a charge, when a strong torce of rebel infantry was discov-ered in the the rear. Our men fought slowly, falling back, when they were re-ento: c. d and the rebels driven back again, followed closely till night set in. The rebels had been driven twenty-two miles, routed at all points, and losing men, artillery and wagons. Out whole less was not filly. Breckindings was known to be with Lee on Tuesday, and it is hoped he has been captured. Polard, who took advantage of the ecape of Mr. Richardson, has deen arrested it Richardson and committed to Castle Thunder for disleyal language.

Washington, April 10.

During the rejoicings here to day the President, who returned from Richardson last evening, was called out, and said:

I am greatly rejoiced that an occasion has occurred so pleasurable that the people can't restrain themselves. I suppose that arrangements are being made for some sort of demonstration. [Voices, "We can't wait."] If there be such a demonstration, I, of courte, will have to respond to it. [Voice, "Bhilly for you."] I will have nothing to say; yon dribble it on tof me. [Laughter and cries of "We want to hear yon now."] I see yon have a second side of the supportation. Unless some to say it want to hear yon now."] I see yon have a second side of the supportation. RIVER MATTERS. ARRIVALS .- General Buell, from Cincinnati . W. Garrett, from Cincinnati; Highlander, from St. Lonis; America, from St. Louis; Couniess, from

Tennessee river; St. Cloud. from Tennessee river Clifton, from Cincinnatl; Wren, from Kentucky river; Morning Star, from Henderson. DEPARTURES .- General Buell, for Cincinnati J. W. Garrett, for Paducah; Highlander, for Cincinnatl; America, for Pittsburg; Countess. for Pittsburg; St. Cloud, for Pittsburg; Clifton, for ville. The river at this point continues to recede quite fast, not withstanding the late rains, with nine feet water in the canal last evening by the mark, seven feet in the Indian chute on the falls and six teet over the rocks. In the middle chute for ascending boats there was about four feet water. During the twenty-four hours ending at dark last evening the river at the head of the falls had receded forrteen inches, which is equal to a fall of three and a half feet at Portland. The weather was clear and pleasant.

-The latest advices from Pittsburg are to the effect that the Ohlo at that point is falling, with eight fect water in the channel by the plcr mark. -At Cincinnati at noon yesterday the river was falling very fast, having gone down six feet four lnches during the previous twenty-four hours. -In regard to the Cumberland river the Nashville Press says that the heavy rain of Saturday ight, which poured down all day Sunday, is having its effect on the river. Last evening the Cumberland was rising at the rate of one foot per hour with ten feet of water on Harpeth Shoals. We look for a high river again.

-The steamer Mark R. Cheney was burned or the 21st, fifteen miles above Oachlta City, on the Oachita river, from sparks from the furnace igniting cotton, of which several hundred bales were on board. Two lives were lost. -The Nashville Press of yesterday, gives the following as the arrivals and departures at that ARRIVED—The arrivals since our last have been as follows: Irene, Smithland; Mercury, Louisville Charmer, Evansville; tow-boat "Whale," Ohlo Palestine, Louisville; Bermuda, Louisville; Eater prise, Ohlo river; Bertha, Cincinnati; J. S. Printle, Cincinnati;

DEPARTED—The departness were as follows. J. R. Gilmore, Cincinnati; Roonoke, Cincinnati; Guille, Speer, Ciucinnati; Kenton, Cincinnati; Guilon, Cincinnati. -The General Lytle and Major Anderson are the regular mail packets for Cincinnati and the East, the former leaving at 12 o'clock and the latter at 4 P. -The stcamer St. Patrick, in her new and ele gant dress, will arrive here on Friday next." OHIO AND MISSISSIPPI TRANSPORTATION COM PANY.-This new company was duly inaugurated yesterday by the St. Nicholas leaving with a large trip of both passengers and freight. Hundreds of our citizens were at the wharf to witness the first lepartnre of the new line, and wish them success The new line commenced by putting the price of passage from this place to Cincinnatl at $3, and the old line, which had been charging $1, at once placed their passage fare at the same The packet for the new line to-day is the St. Charles, which will leave the wharf-boat at the foot of Fourth street, at 12 o'clock, in charge of Capt. W.C. Watts, a thorough and experienced boatman, assisted in the clerks' office by G. W. B. Swermstead and Samuel Byington, two attentive and courteous gentlemen.

-When the Liberty No. 2 arrived at Memphis on the 6th inst., the safe of the Adams Express Company was sunk in the river after being placed in the express wagon, by the horse backing.. Mr. Apperley, mate of the boat, succeeded in getting the safe out of the bottom of the river, for which ne received a reward of $1,600.

For New Orleans,-The Lady Gay, a new boa and one of the finest on the western waters, will leave the city wharf, at 4 o'clock this evening, for New Orleans and all way points. The state-rooms of the Lady Gay are the finest to be found in the west, being large, airy and furnished with the finest spring mattrasses. The tables of this fine packet will be constantly loaded with every delieacy the season affords, and nothing could be more pleasant than a trlp on her. She leaves the city wharf at 4 o'clock, In charge of Capt. John A. Wil liamson, a thorough boatman, assisted in the cierks' office by Mr. W. OFFICE OF THE LOUISVILLE DEMOCRAT.

There was very little animation manifested in ou eneral produce margets, and the amount of but transacted was comparatively small. The decline in gold and the reported decline in the New York market caused a decline of flour in our market, and small sales of superfine were made at $6.75. In large lots they could not have been sold at over 86 50, if indeed there were any buyers at that price. Plain extra was held at 83 and family brands at 88 25@9 50, according to quality and reputation of brand. Wheat is unchanged, with but little disposition to operate. Some of the millers are paying $1 59@1 60 for white and white wheat; while others are refusing to pay over $1 40@155. Far coin re mains very dull and heavy. Prices are entire'y nominal at 85@35c. Oats are selling at 70c.

Groceries are rather duller, with less disposition t perate, and parties are purchasing only to such an extent as their immediate wants desire. Rio coffee is to be had at 31@33%c, with no sales reported to-day. New rleans sucars are quoted at 18@20c. No sales of con conence could have been made at anything above the luside figure.

The 'provision marke' is dull and unchanged, with nothing doing in mess pork, which we quote nominally at $37629 per bbl. There is a fair retail demand for bacon, and we quote as follows: Shoulders 16@16%c, clear rib sides 18@19c. clear sides 19@20c, hams, plain 13@20c and sugar-cured 20@2216c. Lard is unchanged, with amail sales at 18@19c for tierces and 22c for kegs. In the money market we have no change of im ance to notice. The demand, though not large, la not met by our bankers.

The following are the quotations given by our bankers or cold and Government securities up to 2 o'clock this afternoon:

A MILE A MINUTE OR SO. BY B. F. TAYLOR. "Go ahead" is American; it is written on everything from a plow to a telegram.

We are not always "sure we're right," but neverlheless we go. A little further, a lit-tle stronger, a little longer, but all wraped in the word "go."
Swallows are an American's admiration, and so are pigeons, and lightning and steam engines; of all the heathen gods, he most delights in Mercury; Mercury, the lawyer and liar; but then he was the first express messenger, and had wings to his heels and wings to his cap. From the bey's first cedar arrow to the man's last polished lever, it is all "go." We have passed years of life within the sound of the clanking engine; we have dwelt in the midet of a city whither from every quarter flock locomotives like doves to the windows: "tugs" scream like crazy sea-birds up and down the river; stately steamers come in breasted with white foam; the news of the world is caught in a web of wire. And yet we must get away from it all to be impressed with the wonderful age we live in; get away into the woods, where we are now writing, and think and listen. Around us is the world as it might have been two centuries ago; grain grows under the sun and rain as it did in Pharaoh's time; horses go upon four legs still; the "milky mothers of the herd" come lowing home as whem Homer sang; and the ol 1 dog is unchanged since it whined Ulysses' wel-

But this is something new and strange even here: something that used to find place in the Entertainment of the Thousand and One Nights, and the fairy stories of childhood. From the heart of the billowy woods comes a dull roar; lost as it plunges into a deep gorge; louder and nearer as it strikes out into the open spaces. Then there is a shriek, and then the clank of wheels, and we know it is the Michigan Southern train rushing through its iron orbit-from Toledo to Chicago-from Chicago to Toledo-like the swing of a pendulum; like the flight of Night is the time to hear it. The myriad sounds that make up the din of the day are ushed; for noises undiscernable, the tread the flutter of unseen wings, the inaudible of children, all go to make that something which is hardly a sound, yet not silence; all feel it, though none can describe it. And it is in the night we miss it: the birds that fly, then, have muffled wings, the fire goes out in the roaring forge, and the ivory ings to us the champ of hungry wheels as they devonr the miles; we can hear, as we , the bissing plunge of the shaft, though far away over wood and field. The sound "head-light," no flash of glittering win-dows; each with a stranger face looking out ntc the moon light night, catching glimpses of these shorn and yellow fields, these swelling woods, these racks of corn that never shall see again. 'Beauty and the Beast" sweeping by in that train; all that mars or makes a world of love and hope and energy. a little of each, a parti-colored hread of the great web of human life. And they are all in a hurry: those going ome, to reach it; hope is before some; to return again; hone and fortune: grief is beind others; guef and ruin. And with hem all. "go ahead is the word. They fall asleep in Illinois, they dream through Michigan, they shake themselves awake in thio, and yet they ask in all the tones of mpatience and complaint, when the enine stops to take what Cesar cried for might fly away, is a wish so intensely merican that we are almost surprised to and it in the Bible; the "and be at rest" that ends the little prayer, just saves some Yan-rywhere those other words, "go ahead." Motion, rapid motion, elates us: up to a rtain rate. we are timid, but beyond that | Senate. we feel strong, feel as if we had wings somewhere; the mind thinks quick and lear; we sympathize with birds of sweepng wing; we are less of "the earth, earthy: aight the Chicago bound train on the Michi-Southern road lacked as many minutes by that position than any other in the gift ing "on time" as the dying Queen of the Senate? (Here Senator Hunter of being "on time" as the dying Queen said she would give her crown and all her air realms for an hour or so-and that a pause and a profound sigh, continued.) night we were a passenger. And didn't we Conductor Whiting went quickly to nd fro, as if we were not moving, and yet the regular clank of the wheels had quickned to a hum: the jolting motion of twenmiles an hour grew steady; the train ot true as an arrow along the rails; the olished arm grasping the engine's wheel ashed faster and faster in the setting sun; rowsy passengers sat upright; tim d pasengers looked anxiously about to read hat was in their neighbors' faces; curious sengers tried to count the trees, sat ith stopped watches and counted the one poor lady, with nerves, prayed little, audibly, and shut her eyes: out and clapped its hands and nghed-dear atom of an American, exlting in its first lesson of "go ahead."

As we swept along the curve through the woods from La Porte, it was twenty miles, wenty-five miles. thirty miles. As we out upon the straight track by the road meadows no man has ever mowed, it vas thirty-five miles, forty miles, forty-five niles, fifly miles an hour. 'True as a die ran the train; the trees bordering the road were wrought into walls of green; the stacks of hay and grain that had been slowly with each other dashed away to ether, the rails before us opened rapidly ike a pair of dividers in swift fingers; houses that were gossipping on the track got out of the way, little squatting bushes jumped up and dodged; houses darted into ttle groves as we passed; little groves were n their way to La Parte; little lakes along he way winked at us; old "Michigan" alone of all things lay at our right for miles and tared bravely at us; the moon alone of all hings went our way, and flew just above the rolling together of the scroll Heaven had just began; small pines saw e coming and stood up stately trees; maroxes turned into human homes, and onle to fill them were hatched out of dots a bird, some sort of hawk, we think 'backed like a weasel." incredulous tried the train a short heat, but rned off in a minute, fairly bolted the rack and left us a clear field.

But yet the train "came to" as gentle as lamb at "railroad crossings" and stopped ike a pet pony at seven stations, to let off omen and little children, and was as dumb nd motionless as if it had been "real estate" at "Calumet" or "Ainsworth's, Holmes' Hole"—"ville," we should have said-and some where, and not a bird of passage, a thing with a-mile-a-minute ca-pabilities hidden in it, that a touch of that engineer's finger, that engineer who sat usely is the saddle all the while, could ring out at will. The sky was yet red in the west, when he engine, unharnessed from the train, stepped as quietly to the platform as if "slow and sure" and "better late than never" had been the mottoes of his life. We do not propose to "improve" this flight from La Porte to Toledo, but only to say that when some groom detached it from the train—the locomotive glowing with its work of a mile a minute or so-he cried out to the engineer "go ahead."

Present Condition of the Siamese Twins The Siamese Twins have been lost from public view for the last few years. It was well known of them that they had married two sisters, and settled down near Salisbury, in North Carolina, on a well-stocked plantation. In addition to this, they have ample funds invested through their agent in New York. Through a North Carolina medical gentleman, now within our lines, we had the other day an opportunity of minute and full particulars in regard to them. Ever since the war began, they have continued to reside on their plantation, and lived in the same quiet and harmony as ever until within two years. Of course no one ever thought of drafting them; and their negroes prospered, except that when out their negroes prospered, except that when out of temper from any cause, it was apt to work itself off in striking the first one that came to hand, from which the best escape was to keep out of the way. The brothers probably never would have had any difficulty, but that their wives, though sisters, turned away their hearts, and children were the cause of this estrangement.

Up to the period that each had five children, all prospered well enough; but one of them had a sixth, and this awoke envy and jealousy to such a degree that the two sisters, not being bound together like the twin brothers, would no longer live under the same roof, though, we believe, still in different houses on the same plantation. The brothers are now it seems, about fifty years of age, but one, we believe the smaller and feebler of the two, looks, it is said, now fully ten years older than the other. They can turn back to back or face to face. but that is as far as the remarkable bond that unites them permits. It is almost cer-tain that should either die the other could not survive even for more than a few moments, as there is an artery as large as the formoral artery that connects them. A few years since they corresponded with some of the leading surgical operators in London, as to the possibility of the umbilicus which unites them being cut, so that in case of the death of one the life of the other might be saved. At the request of the London surgeon, they visited that city, and many experiments were tried, to determine the safety of such an operation. mong other things, a ligature was tied firmly, for a few minutes, round the connection between them, so as to prevent the circulation of blood through the artery. But it seemed as if cach would expire if this were longer persisted in. The smaller of the two fainted away and ost all consciousness, and there were symptoms that the same effect would follow to the other, but that the process could not be continued long enough without endangering the life of him who was first to faint. Should the smaller and feebler die, it might be worth while making the experiment of operating, but the prospects of prolonging the life of the other would be very small. Should, however, the larger and more healthy of the twin brothers die, there would seem absolutely no hope of saving the feebler of the two.

From all this it is evident, that though the onnection between these two brothers is very remarkable and perfectly unique, it is yet not so absolute as has been usualsupposed. In the American Cyclopedia for instance, it is said that "their respiration and circulation are generally synchonus in the calm state, and their hours of sleeping and waking, their joys and sorrows, anger and pain. ideas and desires are the same. They realize the idea of perof distant feet, the fall of far-off hammers, feet friendship, the two being one, and alk of men and women, the laugh and cry As to ideas being the same, this is by no each one two in thought and act.' means more necessarily so than their simi-lar education and habits would occasion. Each one can hold converstion with a different person at the same time. One does not necessarily know, therefore, what may be communicated to the other, although the feelings and passions are generally similar, owing to the same causes operating upon both. Even this is not necessarily the case, especially, we suppose, as to the degrees of feeling. Since the breaking out of the rebellion, they have both dressed in the Confederate gray, and they are both members of the same church, having unineighborhood, of which they have been conidered very worthy members, though born

CURE WARRANTED IF DIRECTIONS ARE FOL lowed. Single Bottle will last a mon'h-to be user three times a day. The symploms of Catarrh are at first very slight. Petrons find they have a cold, that they have frequent attack, and are more sensitive to the changet of temper ature. In this condition, the nose may he dry, or a slight discharge, thin and acrid, afterwards thick and adhesive may essue.

As the disease becomes chronic, the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now thick and heavy, and are hawked or conghet off.
The recretions are offensive, causing a bad breath; the voice thick and nesst: the eyes are weak; the sense of smell is lessened or distroyed; desfness frequently takes

A cother common and important symptom of Catarrh is, that the person is onlight to clear his throat in the morning of a thick or slimy mucus, which has tallen from the head during the night. When this takes place the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to the inners, and should lose no tune in arresting it.

The above are but few of the many Catarrhal tyry toms. Write for our pemphet describing fully allarmy
